❖ 04-SC Engage and Empower Through Assessment

Course Leader: Michael Beetham

Jump on board this three-day comprehensive tour on the topic of effective assessment practices in the elementary classroom. Participants will focus on three key themes: assessment for learning and as learning; developing a repertoire of efficient tools to use in your classroom; and creating practical teaching units starting with the end in mind. Throughout the course, we will spend time examining theory, good pedagogical assessment practices and exploring and developing practical assessment tools to use in your classroom in September. We will move toward a philosophy of working smarter, not harder as it relates to assessment and evaluation. Participants will investigate several key professional resources associated with effective assessment strategies as well as navigate their way around the new ETFO Assessment website (www.etfoassessment.ca). Together, we will use our collective expertise to further assist in creating a community of engaged and successful learners through high-yield assessment strategies.
